

My New Kitten Adventure

This adventure book is for:

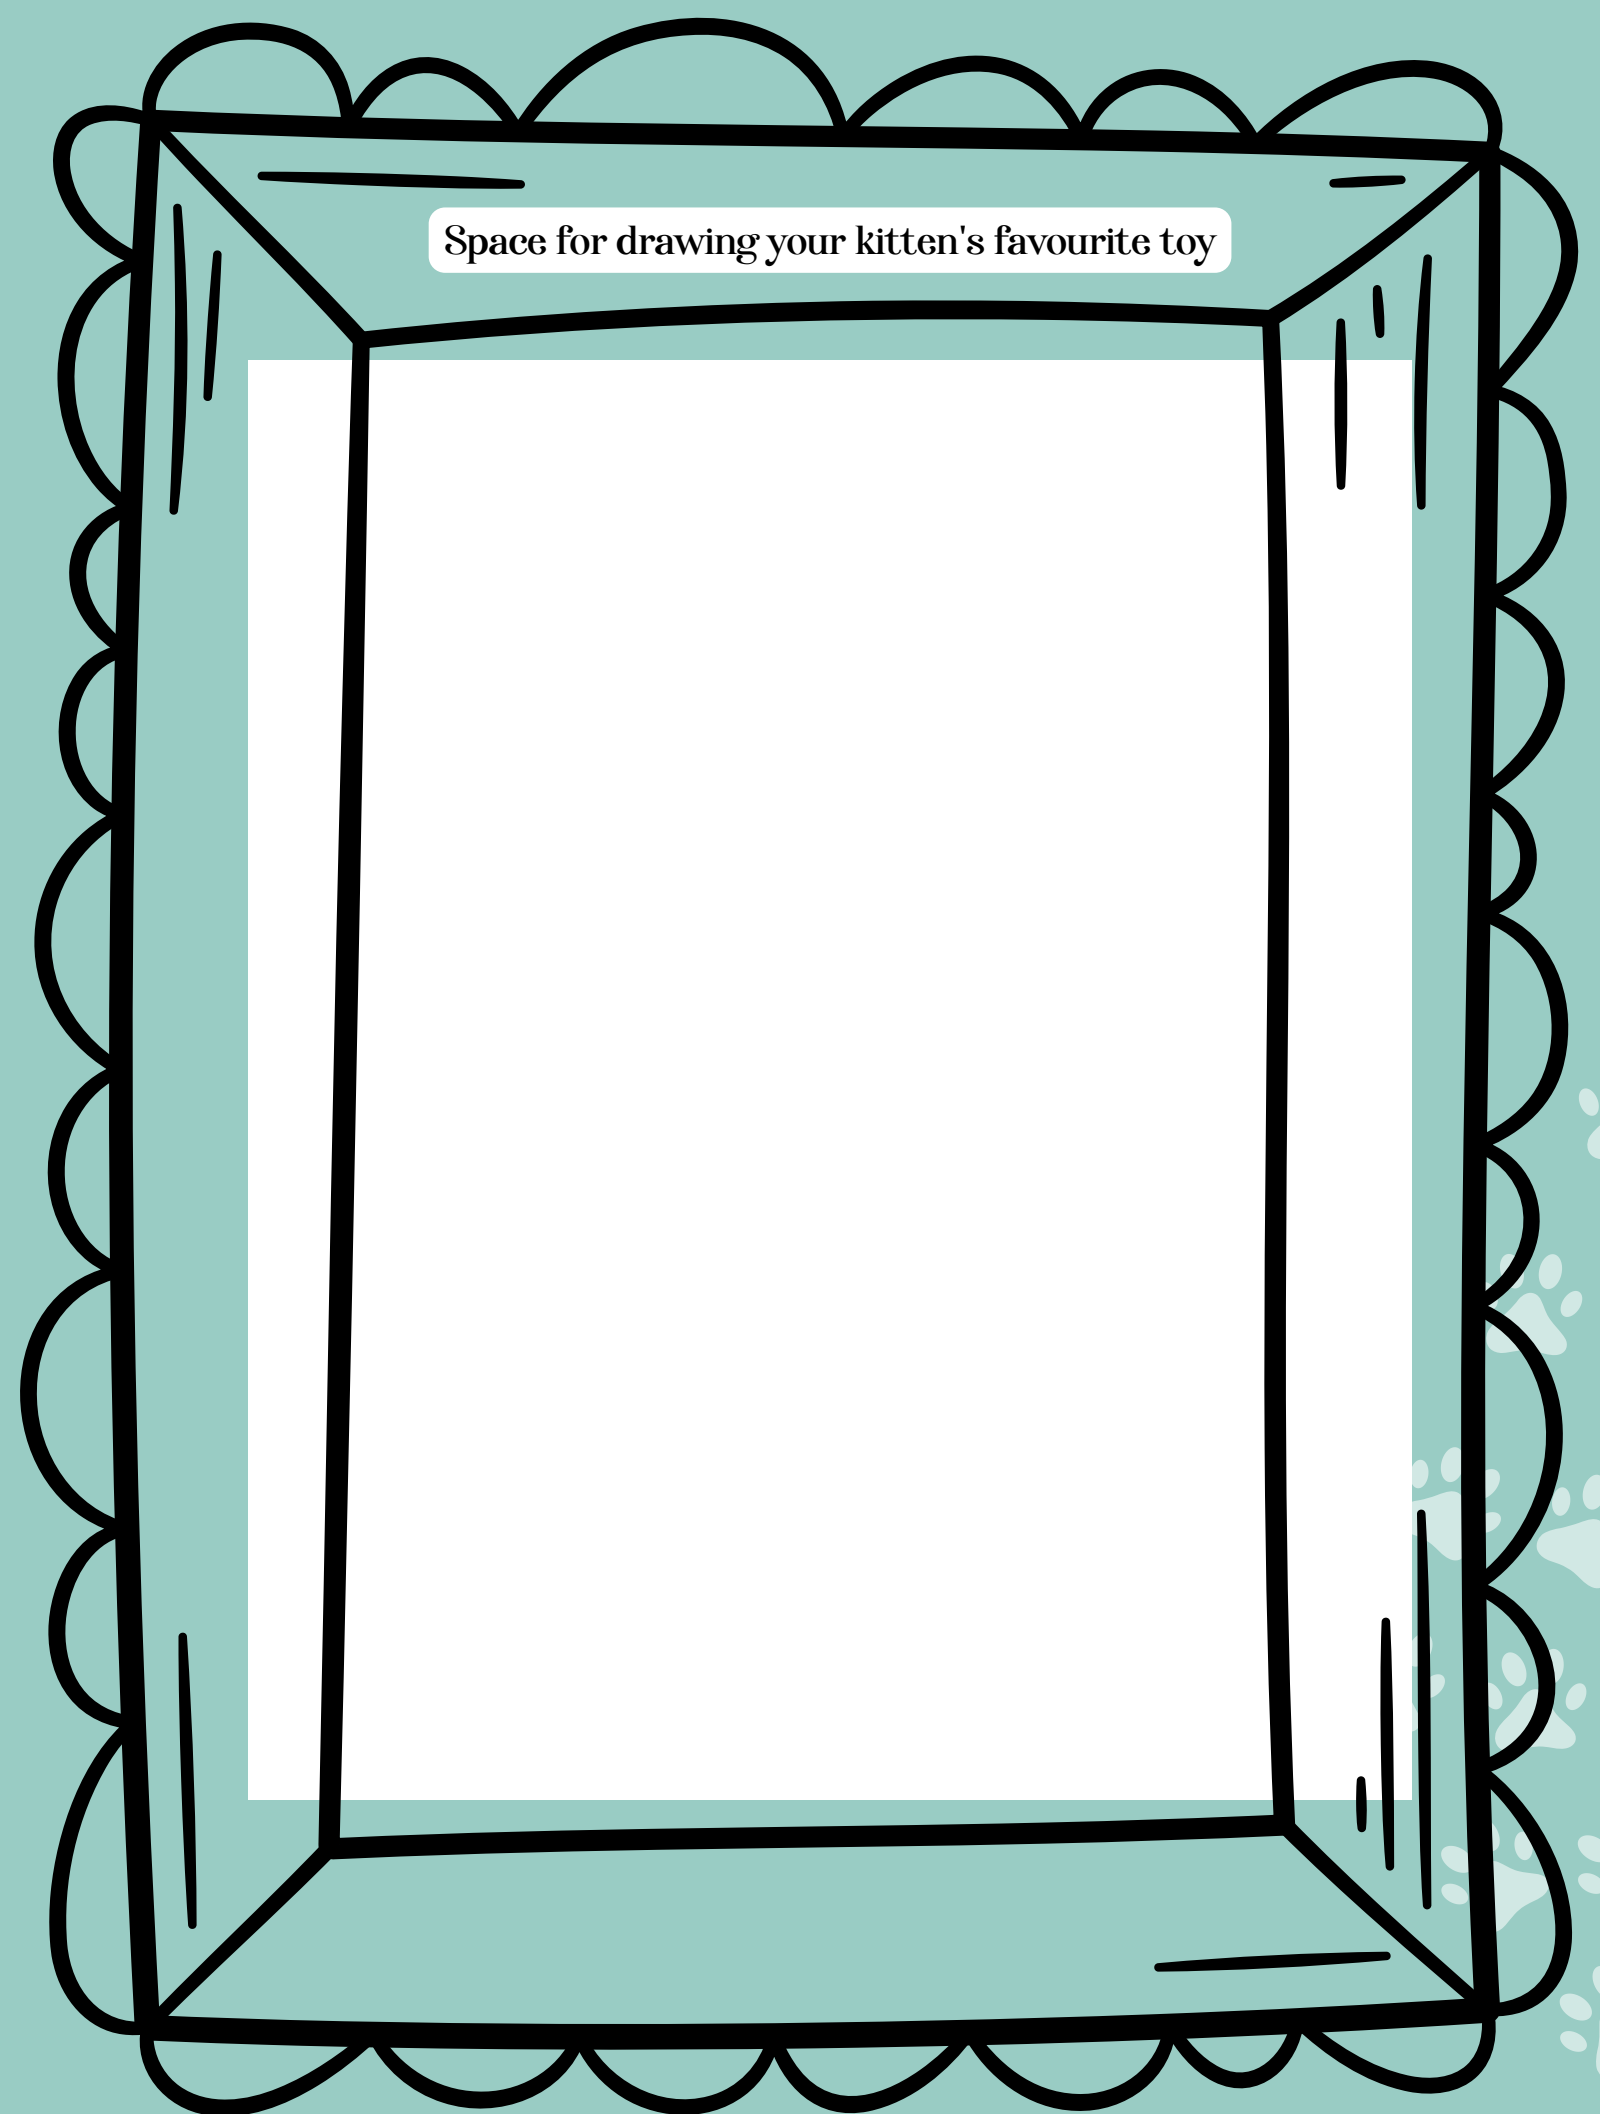

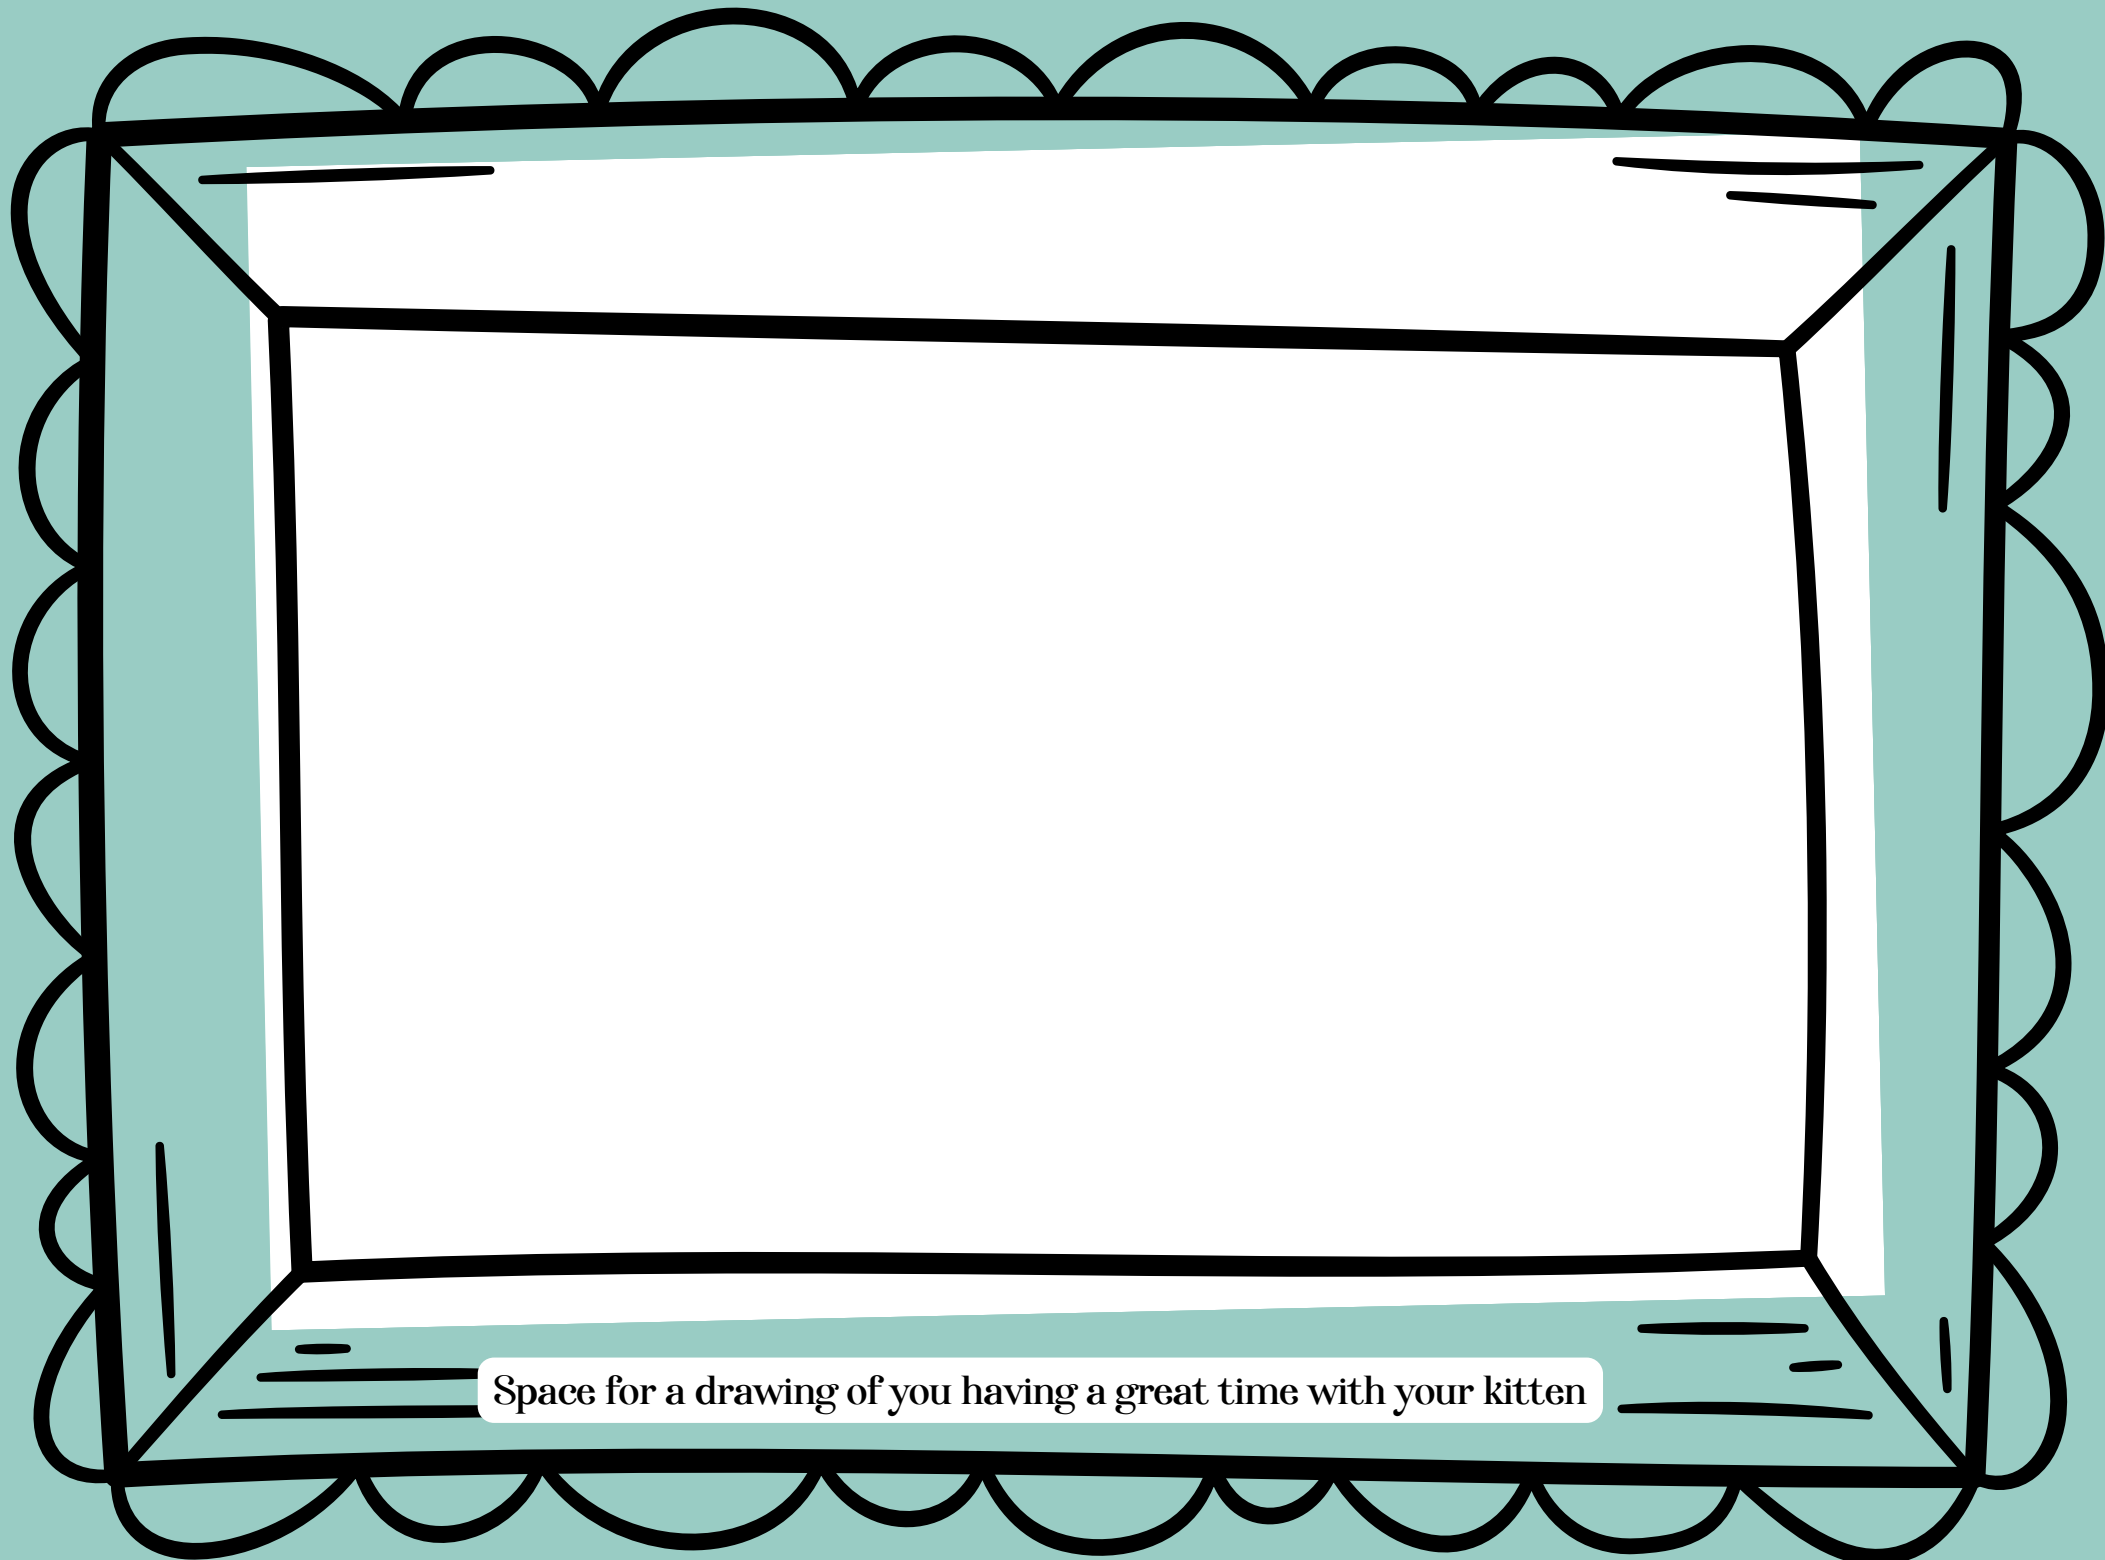

Congratulations on your new furry friend! You must be super excited to play and have fun with your new kitten. Kittens are like little bundles of joy, always ready to make us laugh with the funny things they do. Taking good care of them is really important so they can grow up happy and healthy.

Sometimes, your kitten might feel a little shy or scared because everything is so new to them. Do you remember how you felt on your first day at school? Excited but also a little nervous, right? Well, your kitten feels just the same!

We at Pet People Vets are here to help you and your kitten become the best of friends, full of love and understanding for each other. Getting to know what your kitten likes and how to look after them properly is a big part of this amazing journey.

Just as every friend in your class enjoys different activities, every kitten has its own special thing it loves. Some kittens might love to snooze in warm sunny spots, while others are little explorers, always looking for a high spot to climb. It's important to remember that each kitten is one-of-a-kind!

There's an important rule to remember when you're with any pet: "Always be as gentle with your pet as you would be with your best friend."

That means we don't play too rough - no pulling hair, and definitely no pulling your kitten's tail. Being gentle and kind is the secret to building a loving bond with your pet.

Looking after your kitten means making sure they always have clean water to drink and the right kitten food to eat so they stay happy and healthy. Remember, food made for people isn't good for kittens and could make them feel sick. Kittens love having their own little cosy corners where they can chill out or hide when they want some quiet time. If you find your kitten hiding in their special spot, they might just need a break or feel a little shy.

Being gentle is super important. Your kitten is still small and can get scared or hurt if played with too roughly. But, of course, they also love getting lots of cuddles and playing fun games with you!

Try not to scare your kitten by doing things like hissing. It might be fun for you, but for a little kitten in a brand new place, it can be pretty scary.

Always be kind and loving when you're around them.
